Golden Days.

The Golden Days of life are in childhood. If you would assure to the little ones the pleasure those words imply, you can not adopt more effective means than to include among their holiday presents a subscription to that splendid young folks magazine, the Golden Days, published by James Elverton. Send $3.00 to his address, Philadelphia, Cor. 9th and Spruce streets, and get a large twenty-page magazine, full of good things every week.

Women's Work.

The general desire of modern American women to make money and be independent has been wonderfully exemplified in the remarkable sales of the new book "How a Practical Business Guide for American Women, of all ages and conditions, who want to make money and don't know how." This book, while written by a woman for women, is full of such advice as hard headed, successful business men might give. It is the first book published in English in which women's work and modern opportunities are handled, without sentiment, in the light of common sense. The wealthy woman will here get advice of untold value in handling her money. The needy woman will learn the best honest methods of earning and saving money, and the young woman will get such hints as will put her on equal footing with her brother in the race for independence. Ask your bookseller for it, or send postal order for 50 cts. to Etta M. Taylor, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

For pains in the chest there is nothing better than a flannel cloth saturated with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. For sale by Seybert & Co.

VARIATIONS IN LITERATURE.

Present Day Literary Imitations of Musical Compositions Common Years Ago.

Some twenty-five years ago there was a style of musical composition much in vogue known as "variations," says a writer in the Atlantic Monthly. It appeared in dozen page sheets entitled "Home Sweet Home—with variations;" "Coming Through the Rye—with variations;" "Let Me Kiss Him for His Mother" (also with variations). The distinctive plan of these compositions—and, whatever their individual characteristic, they were, as a whole, without variation—consisted, first, in a brace or two of banging prelude, closely followed by a simple little air that somebody else had written. This definitely renounced the theme to be "variated," which was next heard behind a thin screen of artfully arranged arpeggios. Then it donned a deep disguise in the bass, to become barely recognizable in the treble with trills, ditto in bass, in the treble with runs, ditto in bass, and finally lost itself in a company of crashing chords so overpowering that one could not be certain whether the original air had been "Coming Through the Rye" or "Let Me Kiss Him for His Mother."

A similar sort of treatment has now invaded the art of letters; that is to say, it has affected the entire twentieth century, as well as the select seven to be found upon the piano keyboard. It doesn't nowadays satisfy a writer to say, merely: "One summer morning, fine and early, I was walking through the woods." He immediately goes on (taking the word "early" as his keynote): "The sun had not been long above the horizon and the air was yet fragrant with last night's dew." Then, with "fine" and "summer" as texts, he tells us: "Everywhere were the green and luxuriant footprints of light-stepping summer." Starting next from (1) "I," (2) "walking" and (3) "woods," he informs us: "As my feet pressed the soft mossy forest floor, the air, the air, the crackle of a dry stick was heard and a startled gray squirrel scampered up the giant oak on my left." Da capo: "On such a glorious morning I was glad simply to be alive, as were we all—young-risen sun, trees, flowers, moss and little gray squirrel."

And so, diluting and further diluting an idea, it is hard to tell just what degree of strength it may originally have possessed. The strength of the writer, it is, however, more easy to determine.

FACTS ABOUT JUPITER.

Wonderful Figures Fail to Express Enough Concerning the Great Planet.

Our most eminent astronomers do not pretend to give us exact reckonings on the great floating worlds outside of our own solar system, but within that monstrous aggregation everything has been reduced to certainty. The kingpin of the solar system is Jupiter, "mighty Jupiter," the colossal giant of all the sun-kissed worlds. His diameter is about 88,000 of our miles, being about eleven times that of our own globe; the circumference 275,000 miles at the equator, which would give the giant a volume exceeding that of the earth by 1,384 times. Were it possible to bring the earth and Jupiter so close together that the distance separating them would be no greater than that which now separates the earth from the moon—about 240,000 miles—what wondrous sight would be in store for the residents of our little globe. The world of Jupiter would appear to us to have a diameter forty times larger than that of our usual mighty attendant, and the surface of his disk would occupy a space greater than that of 1,600 full moons. And this giant of the planets is removed from the sun by a distance of 496,000,000 miles; has an orbit of more than 1,000,000,000 miles in extent, and makes a circuit of its celestial track once every 4,332 days. Thus it will be seen that a year on Jupiter is equal to eleven years, ten months and seventeen days on our globe. The immensity of the world of Jupiter and its orbit may be approximately measured by this comparison: In order to complete its orbit in the time given above, it must speed around the sun with a velocity of 700,000 miles a day, or a little more than eight miles per second.

COST OF CUP RACES.

Lord Dunraven Has Spent a Fortune Trying to Beat the Vigilant.

Yachting costs a great deal of money, especially such yachting as is indulged in to capture and defend the America's cup, remarks the New York Tribune. A friend of Lord Dunraven said recently that the earl told him that the total cost to him to build, equip and run the Valkyrie, together with his traveling expenses to win the America's cup, would be fully one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The syndicate which built the Vigilant subscribed one hundred thousand dollars originally, and has been called upon for an assessment besides, so that the total outlay upon the cup defender is not far from the amount expended on the Valkyrie. Add to these sums the money which the Jubilee, Colonia and Pilgrim cost their owners, and the total cost of the latest struggle for the America's cup amounts to almost five hundred thousand dollars.

The honor of holding the America's cup, however, cannot be reckoned by dollars and cents, and American yachtsmen would not have been willing to part with the trophy at any cost. The practical benefit to boat building and the pleasure and profit to be derived from a pure and manly sport must be added to the credit account.

Indian Stalls in Delaware.

Interesting relics of dead and gone Indian tribes are the great mounds of oyster shells formed along the seashore in southern Delaware. According to local tradition, the Nanticookes of Pennsylvania were in the habit of wintering along the seashore in lower Delaware and of eating numerous quantities of oysters. The shells testify to the appetites of the Nanticookes, and many Indian implements are found in the mounds.

A Cleveland nail factory recently turned out 5,652 kegs of wire nails in one day, which is the largest daily output ever made from one establishment. The selling price of those nails is $1.20 in car load lots, per keg of 100 pounds; that is to say, the price is one and two-tenths cents per pound. Inasmuch as the duty on such nails is from two to four cents a pound, under the McKinley law, it is a pertinent question, who pays the duty? And what becomes of Prof. Wilson's theory the full amount of the duty is always added to the cost of the article.

About a year ago I took a violent attack of la grippe. I coughed day and night for about six weeks; my wife then suggested that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. At first I could see no difference, but still kept taking it, and soon found that it was what I needed. If I got no relief from one dose I took another, and it was only a few days until I was free from the cough. I think people in general ought to know the value of this remedy, and I take pleasure in acknowledging the benefit I have received from it.—Madison Mustard, Otway, Ohio. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Seybert & Co.

Give It Up!

"Why does Cleveland wear silk suspenders?" remarked a wag to us the other day. "Don't know," we answered, "unless the position he holds demands better suspenders than we have." "No," replied the smartie, "he simply wears them to hold up his pantaloons."

One of those coincidences that are as mysterious as they are interesting occurred in connection with the death of John Nolan, an officer of the Superior court of New York. Last Saturday he "took a notion" to make his will, and he was in excellent health, was chaffed by friends whom he asked to witness it. It was signed and sealed that afternoon, and the next day he died of heart disease.

Modern appliances for extracting gold have recently been set up at Mt. Ophir, whence Solomon brought a vast amount of gold for his famous temple. The crude appliances of those older days left much gold in the "tailings" and it is now claimed that a mining company has recently taken $50,000 from Solomon's gold "dump."

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once.

Palmetto assumes to tell what the lines in your hand indicate. It will amuse you, if nothing more. The above diagram almost explains itself. The lines of the LINE OF LIFE indicates the probable age to which you will live. Each BRACELET gives you thirty years. Well-marked LINE OF HEALING denotes a strong, clear LINE OF FORTUNE, fame or riches. Both combined mean success in life; but you must keep up with modern ideas to win it. You will find plenty of these in Demorest's Family Magazine, so attractively presented that every member of the family is entertained. It is a dozen magazines in one. A CLEAR LINE OF FATE, peaceful life; the reverse if crooked. A well-defined LINE OF HEALTH spurs you doctors' bills; so will the health hints in Demorest's. No other magazine publishes so many stories to interest the home circle. You will be subject to extremes of high spirits or despondency if you have the GIRDLE OF VENUS well marked; keep up your spirits by having Demorest's Magazine to read. By subscribing to it for 1894 you will receive a gallery of exquisite works of art of great value, besides the superb premium picture, 17x22 inches, "I'm a Daisy," which is almost a real baby, and equal to the original oil painting which cost $300; and you will have a magazine that cannot be equaled by any in the world for its beautiful illustrations and subject matter, that will keep you posted on all the topics of the day, and all the fads, and different items of interest about the household, besides furnishing interesting reading matter, both grave and gay, for the whole family; and while Demorest's is not a fashion magazine, its fashion pages are perfect, and you get with it, free of cost, all the patterns you wish to use during the year, and in any size you choose. Send in your subscription at once, only $2.00, and you will really get over $25.00 in value. Address the publisher, W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York. If you are unacquainted with the Magazine, send for a specimen copy. A large TRIANGLE means honesty; a large TRIANGLE, generosity; long FIRST DIVISION OF THUMB, strong will; LONG SECOND DIVISION, reasoning faculty. THE MOUNT OF JUPITER betokens ambition; that of SATURN, prudence; the SUN, love of splendor; MARS, courage; MOON, imagination; VENUS, love of pleasure; and MERCURY, intelligence. Take our advice as above and you will be sure to possess the last and most valuable quality.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is carefully prepared from sarsaparilla, dandelion, mandrake, dock, pipsissewa, juniper berries and other well known remedies, by a peculiar combination, proportion and process, giving to Hood's Sarsaparilla curative powers not possessed by other medicines. It effects remarkable cures when other preparations fail.

Hood's Pills cure biliousness.

A Columbus traveling salesman for a New York white goods importing house received a letter from his firm recently to the effect that they did not intend to put any men on the road until July next, because the proposed new tariff schedule reduces the tariff on their goods from 65 per cent. to 35 per cent. and they are unable to sell their stock at the old figures and dare not buy anything abroad until the tariff matter is settled. Here's where you get your good old stimulus to good times—Columbus Journal.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

Jimmy—"I was walking in the woods, when all at once, I came on the biggest kind of a rattlesnake."

Pa—How do you know it was a rattlesnake, Jimmy?

Jimmy—By the way my teeth rattled as soon as I saw him.

Seedy applicant—"Say, boss, is there an opening here for a man of push?" Merchant—"You bet." That door there swings out. Turn the knob to the right and push hard."—Buffalo Courier.

T. F. Anthony, ex-postmaster of Promise City, Iowa, says: "I bought one bottle of 'Mystic Cure' for rheumatism and two doses of it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took." Sold by W. R. Smith & Co., Druggists, Hillsboro, Ohio.

"Willy," said the history teacher, "how did Cleopatra die?" She bit herself with a snake," said Willy.—Puck.

The persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. W. A. McGuire, of McKay, Ohio, says: "La Grippe left me with a severe cough. After using several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Seybert & Co.
